TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.

The Manhattan S. M. Co. shipped on Monday 10 bars of bullion, weighing 704 pounds, valued at $10,000.

Young Crow, the man who was held in Carson on the day of the 3d, was held without bail to appear before the Ormsby Grand Jury.

The Appeal says the weather was so hot in Carson Sunday that the solder on the tin roofs melted and ran down into the gutter like rain water.

The Tribune is worried because nothing has been heard lately concerning the U. S. building and folks begin to fear this year will not see its commencement.

S. Carpenter, admitted to the Asylum from Lander county, May 3, 1884, and aged about 50 years, died of dropsy of the heart at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

D. H. Stewart, one of the deaf and dumb party en route to the coast, which passed through here Tuesday evening, was overcome by heat in Salt Lake City Sunday night, and died Monday morning from its effects.

General S. W. Backus on Tuesday ceased to be one of the proprietors of the San Francisco Post, he having disposed of his interest to Charles M. Shortridge, of the San Jose Mercury. Mr. Shortridge will assume the management of the business affairs of the Post.

The enterprising proprietors of the Depot Hotel have extended the platform in front of their hotel several yards east of the building. This improvement was much needed and now passengers getting off from the east end of trains can do so without wading through dust at the crossing.

The Board of Pardons Tuesday refused to commute the sentence of Thomas Gillmore sent to the State Prison from Washoe county for shooting at the passenger brakeman on the C. P. at Verdi. They also refused to pardon James E. Coombs, for killing Jack Ross in Carson City. The case of Thos. Kelly, sent from this county several years ago for killing Fagan, was continued.

THE STORM.—Mr. Emery, the driver of the Glenbrook stage, says the Tribune, says the thunder storm of Monday was the heaviest he ever saw for over a quarter of a century driving on the Pacific coast. The rain fell for two hours a perfect deluge and swept gullies so deep that bedrock could be seen everywhere; the road from Spooner's to Glenbrook was washed clean as a parlor floor and detonations of the thunder were something awful and almost paralyzing.

GREAT FAREWELL LECTURE.—To-night Prof. McDonald gives his great farewell lecture on Sunshine and Shadow of Matrimony. It disproves the old adage, "true love never runs smooth." Also how to be on good terms with your mother-in-law. At the close there will be a grand phrenological wedding. Six young ladies will be mated off. The lecture to-night is too good to be missed. Get tickets at the Postoffice news depot.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The Tribune says: In the case of the State against Emmitt Jones and W. J. Bryan, an opinion was filed Monday affirming the judgment of the District Court of Washoe county sentencing Bryan to the State Prison for the crime of burglary and reversing the judgment as to Jones on the ground of insufficiency of evidence to convict, and remanding the cause for a new trial to him.

ANNOUNCE YOURSELF.—We notice the announcements in several of our State papers of office-seekers, which is correct. The many candidates in Washoe county should step forward, put up their $5 and let the people know who they are and what they want. A man can not get much in this country unless he asks for it.

BISHOP WHITAKER.

He has not yet decided to leave His Nevada Home.

Upon hearing that Bishop Whitaker of this State had been elected Assistant Bishop of Pennsylvania, the editor of Carson Index sent to the reverend gentleman a letter of inquiry asking for definite information of his intention with regard to accepting the high place offered to him, it being well-known that his response would be of great public interest. His reply is printed below:

ST. PAUL'S RECTORY,
VIRGINIA, NEV., July 10, 1886.

WELLS DRURY, Esq.—My Dear Sir: In reply to your kind note of the 8th, I can only say that I have thus far been unable to decide whether to accept or decline the election to Pennsylvania. If I were at liberty to follow my own inclination I should remain here; for I love every man, woman and child in Nevada, and should be perfectly contented to go on doing my work here for the rest of my days, as I have for nearly twenty years in the past. But it is not a question to be decided by personal preference; it is a question of duty, and as soon as I see clearly what I ought to do, I shall undertake to do it.

Should I go away I shall continue my deep interest in the "School for Girls" at Reno, and shall do for it all that I can possibly do, while so much of the time so far away from it. I shall not leave until some weeks after the school year begins, and shall be back again before the year ends.

The school was never in so good condition to go on without me as it is now. Miss Pease, who has charge of it, is admirably fitted for her position, and all who are associated with her are abundantly qualified for the places they occupy.

Faithfully yours,

O. W. WHITAKER.

DEPARTURE.—To-morrow afternoon Prof. McDonald goes to Carson. Doubtless he will draw large audiences there to his lectures on phrenology, health, marriage and self-improvement. His audiences were large and enthusiastic throughout his entire course of lectures here. He handles his subjects in an able and scientific manner. He is a fluent, pleasing, able and brilliant speaker. His lectures are full of instruction and valuable advice, and calculated to make humanity healthier, better and happier. The lecture to-night (which is the last of the course) will discuss love, courtship and marriage from a phrenological, scientific and philosophical stand-point; it is the funniest and best of all. All who attend to-night will have a rare, rich and royal treat, which they will long remember with pleasure. Those desiring phrenological examinations should interview him without delay at the anteroom of the Theater, as his stay is short.

O. W. WHITAKER.

A SAD CASE.—The Winnemucca Silver State of Tuesday says: William Black, a miner, formerly of Spring City, is suffering from cancer of the jaw. He has been to San Francisco for treatment, and writes his wife to meet him at Reno to-day, as he has given up all hopes of recovery, and desires her to accompany him to Virginia City, where he expects to die and be buried. Mrs. Black has four children, and is in destitute circumstances. At Spring City they raised $30 for her, and here Dr. Kent and W. T. Burns interested themselves in her behalf, and collected $54.50 for the poor woman while she was waiting for the train.

O. W. WHITAKER.

FOURTH DISTRICT COURT.—The Winnemucca Silver State of Tuesday says: The trial of the Marzen case was resumed in the District Court yesterday. L. A. Blakeslee, Miss Louise Marzen, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Emmons, George Singer, Joseph Marzen, Jr., Alex. Wise, Mrs. Sophie Perkins, John Barker, George Schrotb, August Hebron, Joseph Gemsh, and A. Henrich were sworn as witnesses for defendant. A session was held last evening at which Mrs. R. G. Lambert was sworn and examined as a witness, after which Court adjourned until this morning.

O. W. WHITAKER.

IMPORTANT POSTAL AMENDMENT.—The Postmaster General has, in compliance with petitions signed by large numbers of business men in numerous cities, amended the postal laws so as to permit the transmission through the mails within the United States and Territories of liquids not liable to explosion or spontaneous combustion or ignition by shock or jar and not inflammable, soft soap, paste or confections, ointments, salves and articles of similar consistency, under certain conditions and insuring safety to other mail matter in transmission.
